Comfort™ SERIES

Comfort Control at Your Fingertips

Things to Consider Before You Buy

Comfort

Carrier specializes in creating a customized home comfort system tailored to your needs with a broad selection of residential heating and cooling products. And, Carrier's Comfort™ Series Three-Zone system gives you the ability to enhance your home's comfort by creating up to three separate areas of personalized comfort control. Your Carrier® dealer can help you choose the best system for your home, including Carrier-exclusive features that further enhance your indoor environment.

- The main living areas are comfortable. The bedrooms are not comfortable, and the basement is largely unoccupied. This house will benefit from a zoning system that delivers comfort where it's needed most.
- A Carrier Three-Zone system can conserve energy by delivering comfort where it's needed most, and cutting back on energy use in areas that are largely unoccupied.
- The Carrier Three-Zone system allows you to divide your home into as many as three separately controlled "comfort zones."
- A Carrier thermostat in each zone puts comfort control at your fingertips with the perfect blend of technology, user-friendly operation and pleasing appearance. Carrier programmable thermostats offer the ability to create personalized comfort schedules according to how and when you use each area.

Customize

Customize your indoor comfort with flexible temperature programming in different parts of the house. Your Carrier dealer will help you decide how to zone your home for the best combination of enhanced comfort, increased energy efficiency and cost savings. Household use patterns, work and school schedules, room locations and characteristics, amount of sunlight entering the area and other variables all have an effect on your zoning setup.

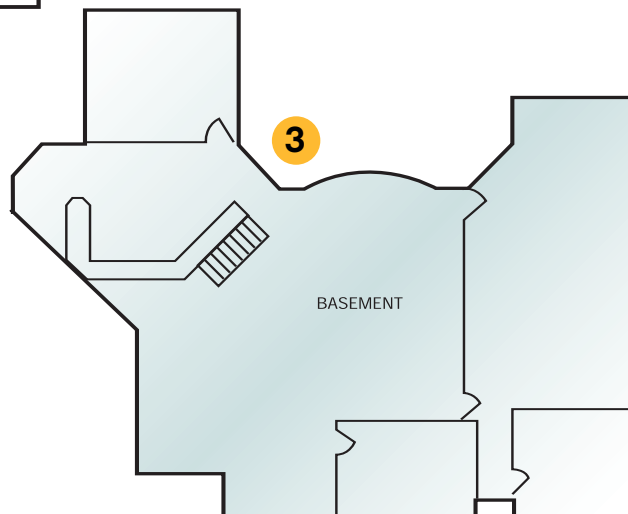

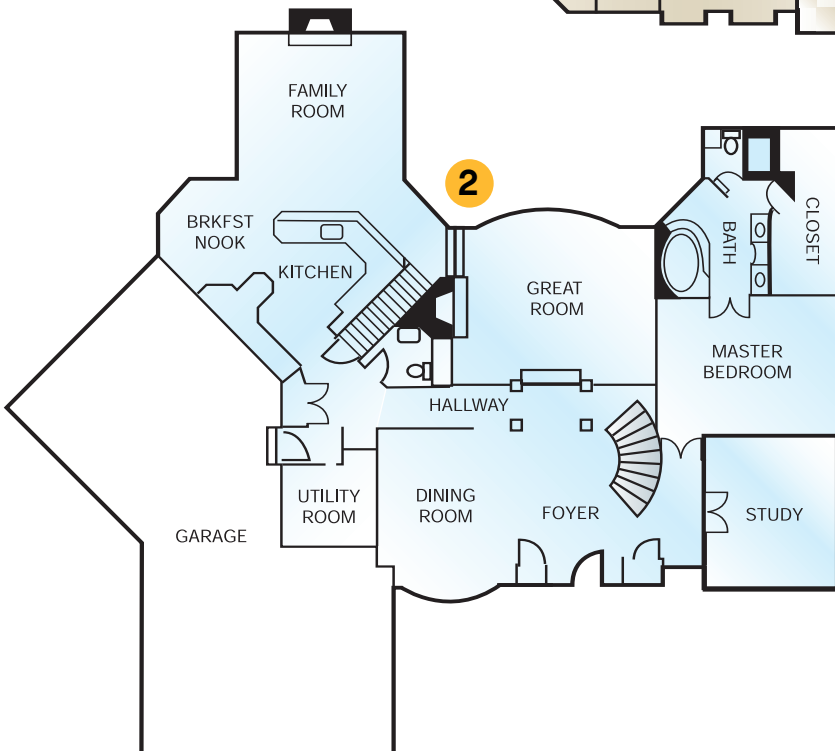

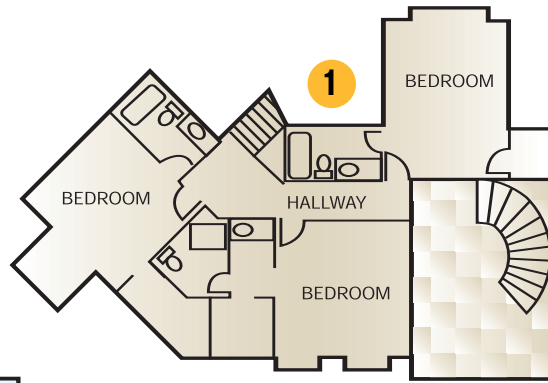

The Carrier Three-Zone control receives temperature readings and comfort settings from each zone's thermostat and adjusts system operation to maintain optimum comfort. Any Carrier thermostat can be used, but for best performance, we recommend a Carrier programmable thermostat. One typical example of how a home can be divided using a Carrier Three-Zone system is shown to the right.

Any Carrier thermostat can be used to adjust your system's settings.

Technology

- 1 Zone 1 – Creating a zone for the entire second floor will help compensate for commonly found airflow issues and minimize the comfort differences often found between levels in multi-story homes.
- 2 Zone 2 – Heavier use on the main level during more hours of the day often means creating a second zone for this entire floor.
- 3 Zone 3 – Basements typically receive less sunlight and are naturally insulated by the ground, which means different comfort requirements from upper levels. A basement or walk-out lower level will often make a sensible third zone option.

Limited Warranty

To the original owner, the Carrier® Comfort™ Series Three-Zone is covered by a 10-year parts limited warranty upon timely registration of your new equipment.* Ask your Carrier dealer about optional extended warranties, which may include labor.

* Warranty period is five-year parts limited warranty if not registered within 90 days. Jurisdictions where warranty benefits cannot be conditioned on registration will automatically receive a 10-year parts limited warranty. See warranty certificate at carrier.com for complete details.

Turn to the Experts

Willis Carrier invented air conditioning in 1902. Over 100 years later, we're proud to say Carrier® systems are trusted in more homes than any other brand.

Carrier continues to be on the forefront of innovative engineering and unsurpassed standards of excellence. So when choosing a home comfort system, you'll want to turn to the experts. Your Carrier dealer will evaluate your home, such as window placement and size, ductwork, other structural specifics and lifestyle to provide a customized indoor comfort plan designed specifically for you. And when you have an expert helping you make an educated decision, you're going to feel more comfortable.
